BLENDING HISTORY AND ART

AREP has created a workplace that offers exciting contrasts from the moment you enter — Pop Art blended with history, generating a unique language that is fresh and provocative. Highlighting Philadelphia's historic and current luminaries, bespoke Pop Art is infused throughout 1600 Market Street.

The specially commissioned bright yellow 'Willy' the fox holding a red balloon sits above the reception desk in the lobby to greet visitors and is a nod to the building's site where the old Fox Theater once stood. The 'Portrait Invaders' and 'Philadelphia Notables' pieces featured on the ground floor and continued within the amenity center, artfully blend old and new Philly—Benjamin Franklin unknowingly in a graffiti-like selfie; Will Smith painted with intense colors sits atop a collage of old Philadelphia Enquirer newspaper covers.

WELLNESS IS IN AREP'S DNA
